——Holliday, this.

——The sheriffs are coming in rapidly.

——Hon. Alfred M. Scales is in the city.

——To day witnesses the stepping down and out of bleak November.

——The banks will be closed to-day, and we suppose the departments at the capitol also.

——Gov. Brogden on yesterday appointed Daniel Tolson, of Ocracoke Hyde county, a notary public.

——The anxiety for election news was greater yesterday and last night than it has been since three days after the election occurred.

——The postoffice will be open to day (Thanksgiving) for the delivery of the mails from 1 P. M. to 2 P. M., and from 6½ to 7½ P. M.

——A correspondent of the Concord Sun suggests that Tilden and Hendricks be invited to visit Raleigh on the occasion of Vance's inauguration, and the Sun endorses the suggestion.

——There is much animation manifest about the hotels these evenings. Not only are the legislators there in full, but they are the spots where the people at large do mostly congregate.

——A joint caucus of the Democratic members of the Legislature was held last night in Commons Hall. It was decided that the General Assembly adjourn from Saturday the 16th to Saturday the 30th of December.

——Capt A. B. Andrews, the accommodating Superintendent of the North Carolina railroad, has offered free transportation from Charlotte to Raleigh to the Hornets Nest Riflemen, of Charlotte, on the occasion of Gov. Vance's inauguration.

——Mr. Josiah Turner lectured last night at Metropolitan Hall. He told of how the railroad ring, NEWS editors and lawyers swap bonds, and how it had established newspapers to corrupt the people, and to buy out or break down the Sentinel,

A Proposition as to the Governor's Residence.

It is understood that Gov. Vance will bring his family to this city after the 1st of January, and the resolution introduced into the Senate on Tuesday by Mr. Troy, of Cumberland, as to the executive mansion, has given rise to a good deal of speculation as to the Governor's residence. There is a suggestion in connection with the matter which seems to have attained some popularity since it was first mooted, and one which we consider worthy of mention: It has been proposed that the State sell the present mansion, tear it down, sell the brick, then divide the premises off into lots and sell them. With the proceeds an elegant residence could be built in Lovejoy's Grove, which property belongs to the State, and which is a highly desirable location for a residence It is very certain that almost as much will be required to repair the old mansion, and make it habitable, as will be necessary to build a new and suitable residence, and the suggestion above made seems to be a feasible one. There is but a month left in which to prepare for the reception of the Governor, and what is to be done must be done quickly.

The Raleigh News. Daily, $5 per annum.

The Logic of the Thing.

Said a gentleman who was defeated for the Legislature in his county (which went Republican by a small majority,) and who was in the city yesterday for the first time since the election, "What does it profit a man," said he, when told that Tilden was sure to be President, "if he carry the whole United States and lose his own county?"

Legislative Summary.

A portion of the proceedings of the House yesterday were quite interesting. We allude to the comparison of the senatorial vote and the conclusion of the canvass of returns for State officers. Both of these matters are given in full in our regular report, to which the reader is referred. Mr. Parish, one of the able representatives from Orange, introduced resolutions protesting in strong and appropriate language against Grant's unbearable usurpations in South Carolina, which were referred to a select committee of five. Several shots were fired by Josiah Turner, Jr., over the public printing in the shape of petitions from certain printers of this city.

The bill to repeal the act amendatory of the Landlord and Tenant Act went to the table after several buncombe and puerile speeches from the Republican side of the House.

When the House adjourned it adjourned to meet Friday morning, as to-day is Thanksgiving day by the grace of Grant and Brogden.

In the Senate there was some measures of importance. Senator Nicholson, of Iredell, introduced a bill to have remedied certain grave defects in the amended constitution. It appears that several sections and paragraphs in different places, are omitted in the printing of the constitution. The matter was referred to an appropriate committee. Senator York's resolution, instructing our representatives in Congress to use their best endeavors to have the revenue law modified or repealed, passed its several readings. Senator Johnston, of Buncombe, introduced an important bill, which was ordered to be printed, in relation to the Western North Carolina Railroad. Senator Liles attempted to get through a bill allowing the Cheraw and Salisbury Railroad to come into this State, and to use whatever guage they choose, but the Senate thought it wise to deliberate upon the matter, and the matter was referred. A considerable part of the session was occupied in the discussion of the bill to prohibit the sale of liquor within two miles of certain Churches in Davie county. Action was taken looking to the carrying into effect of Senator Troy's resolution of Tuesday concerning the Governor's palace. The public printing matter came up again. An amendment, bringing the price down to starvation rates, was offered to Senator Nicholson's bill, which reported the contract made Monday night. Pending action upon this the Senate adjourned. Both Houses will have holiday to-day.

RESOLUTIONS AND BILLS.

By Mr. Parish: A joint resolution protesting against the action of the President of the United States in regard to the State of South Carolina. The resolution reads as follows:

WHEREAS the people of North Carolina have heard of the unparalleled and appalling interference of the President of the United States in placing Federal troops in the capital of South Carolina, under the immediate control of Governor Chamberlain, a defeated candidate for Governor of that State, for the avowed purpose of forcing his own inauguration against the will of the people fairly expressed at the ballot box, and

Whereas the people of the whole country are to-day shocked by the flagrant and wanton disregard of the Constitution of the United States, in totally subverting that sacred instrument, and declaring by the President of the United States that the civil shall be subordinate to the military power in South Carolina, and this too in a time of profound peace, and against the solemn protest of a large number of the best and most conservative, law-abiding citizens of the States; therefore be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives of North Carolina, the Senate concurring;

1st. That such violent and unconstitutional acts on the part of the President of the United States and the present defunct Governor of South Carolina are arbitrary in the extreme, are without a parallel in the history of their country, and totally destructive of the last vestige of civil liberty in the United States, and that we deeply deprecate and solemnly protest against the same.

2nd. That the course pursued by General Wade Hampton, and the law abiding people of South Carolina, and their patriotic and lofty bearing in this their darkest hour of oppression, demands the gratitude of the American people and challenges the admiration of the world.

3rd. That to our sister, South Carolina, we send greeting, thanking her in the name of the people of North Carolina for the forbearance already shown, and trusting that she may bear and forbear all things for the good of the common country, believing that the sun of peace will eventually rise to bless and invigorate her noble people.

Church Services To-Day.

The congregations of the Presbyterian and Salisbury Street Baptist Churches will hold joint services to-day at the Presbyterian Church at 11 o'clock, A. M., when a sermon appropriate to the occasion will be preached by Rev. Dr. Vaughn.

There will be Thanksgiving services at the Free Church of the Good Shepherd at 11 o'clock, A. M. The offerings of the congregation will be appropriated for the benefit of the Orphan Asylum.

It may be that services will be held in other Churches, but the above are all that have been reported.

State Agricultural Journal.

The State Agricultural Journal, together with all its books and accounts, has been sold to Richard T. Fulghum, Esq., editor and proprietor of the Farmer's Journal. We learn that Mr. Fulghum will revive the old subscription list of the State Agricultural Journal, and carry out the unexpired contracts. Mr. Fulghum had nothing to do with the discontinuance of that paper, and his undertaking to supply those who had paid up in advance shows a commendable spirit of enterprise.

Board of Public Health.

At their recent session the American Medical Association appointed committees to lay before Southern Legislatures the necessity of establishing boards of public health. The committee to lay the matter before our Legislature is Dr. Pitman, of Edgecombe, Dr. Hicks, of Granville, and Dr. Grissom, of Wake.

THE usurpation in South Carolina will settle the Presidential problem in Tilden's favor—unless the American people are ready to become slaves to a military despotism.

THE next thing in order should be the impeachment of President Grant for the military despotism which he is practising in South Carolina. The best way out of the present difficulties is to take the bull by the horns.

NO ONE can now deny that the proceedings in South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana are directed from Washington by a conspiracy organized to make Hayes President by false and fraudulent counting, enforced at the point of the bayonet.

THE New York Tribune states that Judge Settle appeared as counsel for D. T. Corbin, United States District Attorney, in the contempt proceedings before the Supreme Court of South Carolina. We only hope that defending carpet-baggers will pay him better in South Carolina than it did in this State.

THE reported Democratic majority in Florida is narrowing down to an exceedingly fine point. A good, old-fashioned count would give us the State by a very small majority; but, under the new-fangled method of counting votes, Florida will probably go Republican by a majority about the size of a corporal's guard.

IN Columbia, the lower branch of the General Assembly is divided. Sixty-four Democrats and two Republicans occupy Carolina Hall, and fifty-eight Republicans the Hall of the House of Representatives. Only three of these fifty-eight, are white, while all the sixty-six, are white. So the color line forms the line of separation, which ought to be agreeable to both parties.

THE Republicans use the very basest material for their villainous purposes in Louisiana. J. Madison Wells, President of the Louisiana Board of Canvassers, has been described by General Sheridan as "a political trickster and a dishonest man." A writer in the New York Sun describes "Mat." as the black sheep of his family—a man "whose word no man willingly trusted, a fraudulent bankrupt and an unconvicted assassin." What hope is there of the country when a man of this stamp is permitted even to make the effort to strangulate a sovereign State?

GO SLOW.

Resolutions condemnatory of Grant's despotism in South Carolina, have been introduced into our Legislature. Of course Grant deserves the severest condemnation for his tyrannical course, but is it prudent just at this grave conjuncture of affairs for the voice of any Southern State to be heard in the matter? Certainly the adoption of any resolutions of an inflammatory nature would be most indiscreet.

The success of our cause, as well as the peace of the country, may depend upon the South's keeping perfectly quiet now, and on until the Democratic party of the North shall wish to hear from us. The Northern people must decide whether the Law or the Sword is to control this government. Let our people then, in the language of the noble Hampton "keep perfectly quiet, trusting to the law and the constitution"—and all will be well.

SOUTH CAROLINA—THE MARCH OF DESPOTISM.

The crisis was reached in South Carolina on Tuesday, at the organization of the Legislature. The Radicals have consummated their game of political villainy, so far as it can be consummated outside of Congress. By force of arms, the General Assembly has been organized in the interests of Hayes and Chamberlain; and once more the American people are called upon to behold Grant and his epauletted minions usurping absolute power, trampling on the laws and constitution of a sovereign State, and setting at defiance the mandates of the highest legal tribunal of that land.

This whole affair was planned at Washington. Only a day or so ago we read the account of a conference of Republican leaders, held in the White House on Sunday, to consider the situation in South Carolina.—There were present, Don Cameron, the Secretary of War; Senator Patterson of South Carolina, called in derision "Honest John"; Attorney-General Taft; General Sherman, and President Grant. This was the day succeeding Grant's order to Secretary Cameron "to sustain Gov. Chamberlain in his authority against domestic violence." At that meeting it was finally decided to place troops about the State House in Columbia, and allow no one to enter it save the members who had received certificates from the Returning Board. The only expedient available for the Chamberlain party, was this use of of military force to enable the Republican members of the Legislature to effect an organization, then proceed to decide the contested cases from Edgefield and Laurens counties in favor of the Republicans, and thus obtain a quasi-legal majority; for if the Senators and Representatives legally elected were not prevented by military force from taking their seats, the Democrats would have a majority of one on joint ballot; and as upon the Legislature devolves the duty of canvassing the votes for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, and as it is well known that Hampton received a majority of the votes, it would have followed as a matter of course that he would at once have been declared Governor, and inducted into office.

The plan of despotism concocted in the White House, Sunday, has been carried out to the letter. Without the shadow of authority Grant has intervened the military power of the Government in a purely State affair. Upon his head rests the blame. Chamberlain, Patterson, Ruger, and all the rest of the Republicans who participated in this dark transaction, were but puppets in his mailed hand—creatures whom a breath from Washington made, and whom a whisper might have destroyed. It is not a mere local matter. It is the action of the Federal Government: it is the despotism of Grant's Administration; and the whole American people are interested in it. The fate of the national election—the peace of the country, hinges upon it; and in this it differs from the Louisiana case, when in 1872, the United States Army took possession of the State Capitol and held it for six weeks with a view of overawing the people, and when in 1874 the United States Army again took possession of the legislative halls, and removed by force from the House of Representatives certain members who were opposed to the Kellogg usurpation.

This time, the northern people will not look complacently on the strangulation of a State, as they did in 1872 and again in 1874. They are almost as deeply interested in this struggle as we of the South; for the peace of the country, the preservation of the sacred chart of our liberties, and the safety of the Republic, are involved. Upon this we rest our hope that the solemn appeal made to the American people by the brave but heroically patient people of South Carolina, is not made in vain; and that through the irresistible power of an enlightened public opinion, Law and the Constitution will yet triumph, without bloodshed.

THE ELECTION RETURNS.

The vote of North Carolina has been summed up by the State officers charged with that duty, and formally proclaimed, for the information of the people. Tilden's majority, calculated by averaging the majorities of the Democratic electors, is 16,106. This is final, as proclaimed by the Governor of the State. There are no "Returning Boards" to hocuspocus it into a Republican majority. And the Old North State stands forth to the world to-day, redeemed, disenthralled, unshackled.

The proclamation of the Governor puts at rest all the rumors damaging to his fame, set afloat by the visit of the villainous Kilpatrick. It was our duty as one of the guardians of the people, to warn the public of the conspiracy which we did then and do now firmly believe was contemplated in connection with the election returns of this State. At the same time we ventured to say that the conspiracy would prove abortive for lack of co-operation on the part of the Governor and Secretary of State. If we entertained a shadow of doubt as to their probable action, their cards cleared them away; and now they have given the fullest proof that they performed their duties with respect to the returns with that fairness which we had a right to expect as they were native North Carolinians.

An almost unprecedented number of irregularities exist in the returns. To some of the returns no seals were affixed. Some were not signed as the law directs; others were not delivered properly to the Secretary of State; others again were received after the time fixed by law for their transmission to the Secretary of State.

Surry county was returned as voting for Tazewell L. Hargrove and Thomas S. Kenan, for Auditor, instead of Attorney-General. Randolph, Swain, Forsythe, Bertie and Tyrrell counties, were given in as voting for the candidates by surnames only. Jackson county voted for Thomas "M." Settle; Warren, for Joseph "W." instead of Joseph "A." Engelhard; Yancey, for Thomas "A." Jarvis and "W." Wheeler, instead of Thomas J. Jarvis and William H. Wheeler; Cherokee, for J. S instead of T. S. Kenan; Dare, for "S." Love, and "W." Wheeler, instead of S. L Love, and W. H. Wheeler.

All these defective returns and irregularities were cured by the wise action of the Legislature, which admitted them after full discussion, seriatim, the will of the people being manifest.

The majority for Governor Vance is 13,025, he receiving 123 203 votes, and Judge Settle receiving 110 178. The aggregate vote is 233,381—the largest vote ever polled for Governor in North Carolina. In 1872, Merrimon received 96,646; and Caldwell received 98,618—total vote cast, 194,863—or 38 518 less than the aggregate vote cast in the election just passed.

With the official vote, both sides will rest content. It was a fair, square, honest beating; and "when the fight is over, there is enough of words."

KEOGH'S PROTEST.

The New York Herald of the 28th instant contains the following dispatch:

RALEIGH, Nov. 27, 1876.

Col. Thomas B. Keogh, chairman of the Republican State Committee, to-night filed a protest with Governor Brogden against the announcement of the vote of North Carolina for Presidential electors. He enumerates twenty-three counties to which he objects on the ground of illegal returns. He claims that the throwing out of these counties will, with the omission of eight counties not heard from, give the State to Hayes. Colonel Keogh furthermore alleges that William B. Glenn, a Democratic elector from the Seventh District, is ineligible, being a commissioner under the act establishing Southern Claims Commission.

This protest seems to have had no effect upon the Governor, if he ever said it at all. He has announced the vote, according to law and his sworn duty. Mr. Carpet bagger Keogh's protest has probably gone to the waste basket, where it should go; and the Kilpatrick game is a dead failure.

WHEN GRANT demanded a fair and honest count, he meant to say to the Returning Boards. Count in Hayes, and I will sustain you with the bayonet.

A "Penny-Wise" Amendment.

SOU'WEST, N. C., Nov. 25, '76.

Mr. Editor:—The General Assembly has not done wisely, in my humble judgment, in reducing the pay of its members from five to four dollars per day, notwithstanding the amendment of the constitution fixing the latter figure for future assemblies. It would have been better to express disapproval of that amendment by declining to come under it any earlier than the prescribed date, January 1st.

In the opinion of very many intelligent persons this "four-dollar-sixty-days" restriction was a catch-penny bid for popularity unworthy the Conservative party. Had it been possible to except that clause from the amendments very many people would have voted against it. In effect, it amounts to saying to all future Legislatures "We muzzle you, because we can't trust you. From the days of Macon and Gaston to the last of the carpet-baggers, the Representatives of North Carolina in the Capitol assembled, have been granted the privilege of fixing their own pay, mileage, and duration of session—the people relying upon their patriotism and good sense not to rob the treasury. But now we lock the door, limit your time, and advise you to gallop through your work, if you don't want to depend on your own pockets for meat and bread," &c

A similar restriction, I venture to say, does not exist in any other State in the Union. Certainly it never occurred to the noble statesmen who framed the several constitutions of the State, from the Halifax Congress in 1775, to 1861 or 1865, not to include the Canby concave of 1868. Nor does any other State offer her Representatives such paltry pay. New York only last year, amid the panic, fixed the salary of her Assemblymen at $1 500 a year, allowing $10 per day during the session, and the remainder at the close of the session.

For my part, Mr. Editor, I have always thought the post of members of the General Assembly should be one of high honor and dignity. Until it shall become so regarded we may look in vain for our wisest and worthiest citizens upon the floors of the capital. Whereas in their stead we are liable to have a body whose inexperience, ill-judgment and susceptibility to improper influences might cost the State more loss in a single session than would pay $20 a day for salaries during the whole year.

Of course, it is possible to live in Raleigh for sixty days at $4 a day. And, by bringing a pair of saddle-bags full of bacon and crackers, with a roll of bed quilts, and a box of paper collars, the frugal member might manage to live, and legislate, on even $1 per day, as there are many holes and corners of the city wherein he might crawl to sleep.

Unfortunately, Mr. Editor, in this period of penury at the South, few of our citizens can afford to relinquish daily avocations, leave their families without the usual income, purchase a becoming outfit, and incur traveling expenses of one, two or three hundred miles, merely for the questionable honor of a seat during sixty days in the Capitol. Hence our future Assemblies are apt to be composed of very wealthy men, with special hobbies; and very young men, without families or remunerative employment, who are ambitious for the distinction, and can live on the pay. And when, through lack of proper time for examination, a long list of crude or corrupt measures are rushed through on the hasty "last days" of a "sixty days" session, entailing thousands upon thousands of dollars loss to the State—then look for an amendment to amend the Amendment. Respectfully,

BURGLEM.

The South Carolina Supreme Court.

[Staunton Vindicator.]

The Hon. A. H. H. Stuart, one of the distinguished men who went to Columbia, S. C., at the request of the National Democratic Committee, returned yesterday afternoon. In conversation with him last night, he said the Supreme Court of South Carolina is composed of three judges. Judge Moses is a native of South Carolina, a Union man during the war, of moderate views, a gentleman and the associate of gentlemen, an excellent lawyer, and not likely to let his politics warp his judgment. Mr. Stuart made his acquaintance at the hotel, and afterward spent an evening at his residence with Gov. Randolph of New Jersey. He is not the ex-Gov. Moses who is so infamous in South Carolina.

Judge Willard is a native of New York, who went to South Carolina for the benefit of his wife's health. He is a man of fine address and appearance, and seemed to have had the best advantages of education and society. He is a frequenter of the best social circles of South Carolina. His legal attainments are excellent. He is living in handsome style at his residence, where Gov. Randolph and Mr. Stuart called on him. He is a Republican, but not a Radical, and is very anxious to see peace in the country. In parting with Mr. Stuart he remarked to him: "We must have peace."

The third judge is Judge Wright, a full blooded negro from Pennsylvania, where he was educated. He is a man of good manners. He is not in accord with the extreme Radicals.

The young man who does the laughing for the Charlotte Observer was tickled to death over the ridiculousness of the rumor in last Sunday's NEWS, that Gov. Brogden would probably withhold the certificate from the Tilden electors in this State. It didn't amuse the people of Raleigh a bit. They remember that Louisiana voted Democratic by nearly as large a majority as did North Carolina.

THE MILLIONAIRE MURDERER.

Escaping the Hangman and Going Into Prison to Stay for Life.

PETERBORO, Ont., Nov. 22.—Think of a millionaire leaving his rich possessions and, accompanied by the officers of the law, boarding the train for the penitentiary there to remain for the term of his life! This morning James Ryan was taken from the jail here, put on board the early train by the sheriff and his constables, and conveyed to the provincial penitentiary in Kingston. He was found guilty of wife murder at the Peterboro' assizes on the 18th of October last and sentenced for death to-day. The Executive at Ottawa, however, heard the prayer of almost the Province, as expressed through a petition asking for the merciful exercise of the Executive power, and the sentence was commuted to imprisonment for life.

Ryan in personal and real estate is worth, so it is estimated, $1 200 000. Twenty years ago when he was of age, his father, Patrick Ryan, now a millionaire of 70, gave him half a million in gold with which to start in business. James bought a large tannery, and by energy in business and the wise and profitable investment of his surplus capital soon doubled his father's gift to him. Eight years ago he married a highly accomplished young lady of Montreal, the daughter of a wealthy French firm of clothiers there. Everything he handled prospered, and he was regarded as the coming Dives of the Dominion. In 1857, when, owing to the panic, real estate was selling dirt cheap, he purchased largely in Chicago, St. Louis, New York, and elsewhere, and obtained an interest in some property in Birkenhead, the chief ship building centre in the north of England, which brought him a handsome yearly income. He sold out his Chicago property in 1869, just before the great fire.

In the early part of this year, Mr. Ryan took to drinking. On the 8th of May he had an attack of delirium tremens. He fled from his house in the forenoon and took refuge from his imaginary pursuers in his tannery, hard by. Toward evening he sent a workman for a bottle of whisky, and having drank it felt nerved again, and returned home. He sat down in his parlor and called his young wife to him. She walked up to him and put her arm around his neck. Their two children, one seven and the other five years old, were in the room. Suddenly Ryan arose from his chair and stabbed his wife in the side. She staggered from the room into the hall and down the steps and with a piercing cry fell dead on the lawn outside the front door.

The town constables arrested Ryan, sitting motionless in his chair. On being accused of killing his wife, he wept bitterly, but made no answer. A long, thin-bladed knife, tinged at the sharp point with blood, was found on the carpet by his chair, and was recognized as a knife used by the tanners for preparing peltries.

The prisoner was duly committed for trial at the fall assizes, and on his trial was defended by three of the ablest nisi prius advocates at the Canadian bar. The defence was temporary insanity—in plainer words, delirium tremens—and when that failed, the learned counsel made an effort to show that the deceased wife committed suicide in distraction at her husband's drunkenness. The suicide theory was abandoned before the close of the trial, however, and the prisoner was found guilty, after a trial extending over eight hours, and sentenced to be hanged to day.

The jury recommended Ryan to mercy, and this recommendation being backed by a petition by this town at large, and by some of the most reputable physicians in the country, Mr. Blake, the Minister of Justice, advised the Governor-General to commute the sentence, as already stated.

Under the old English law a felon condemned to death became "taint by the Crown" and his property, like his body, was forfeited to the Crown. But that practice has been dropped, and Ryan's million and a quarter is invested with trustees, of whom his father is one, for the benefit of the two children.

CREMATION IN GEORGIA.

The Oriental Order of Humanity Burning the Body of W. R. Suppus.

[Augusta Constitutionalist.]

In Augusta, on Saturday evening last, the body of a man who died on the 30th in Atlanta, was cremated under the direction of "The Oriental Order of Humanity." The coffin, a handsome rosewood, upon which was engraved upon a silver plate, "William R. Suppus; age, 42; Died November 4th, 1876," was placed upon the pile, and the order was then gathered in a circle, solemn, grand and peculiar, around the mortal remains of the deceased brother. After the singular prayer of the order had been delivered by the Junior Friar, the torch was solemnly and deliberately applied to the pile, and at once the flames leaped upward and upward.

The coffin was soon enveloped in flames, and thousands saw what had never been known here before—a human body cremated. Balconies, windows, housetops, trees, awnings, to say nothing of the living mass that thronged the street, were crowded to witness the proceedings. While the fire was lapping in angry fury the lifeless body of this great man, the Friar delivered, in the peculiar language of the order, a most eloquent and touching oration.

Soon the coffin began to crumble, and a ghastly spectacle was presented to the eye. The body, blackened, burning, hissing, smoking, was clearly visible, and as the stifling odors filled the air the shrieks and cries of men, women and children were heard on all sides.

After the funeral fires had burned down, all that was mortal of W. R. Suppus was gathered in the urn by the "Most Worthy Keeper of the Sacred Relics," and the society, headed by the band playing the dirge specially written for the occasion, entitled "He has gone to his long, long home, unspoken by water," returned to the hut, where the ashes were deposited in the vault. Then the society dispersed.

NOON DISPATCHES

THE SITUATION.

The Riot in Oregon--Florida Trembling in the Balance--The Dual Legislature -- The Courts -- Don't Want Returns--Republican Aid--The Ousted Legislators.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29 — The situation this morning is unchanged.

The Postmaster question in Oregon is undecided.

Florida hangs on two returns from Baker county. The first regular one giving the State to Tilden; the last irregular, giving the State to Hayes, with 29 other counties questioned.

There are two Lower Houses at Columbia, one composed of 64 Democrats and two Republicans; the other of 58 Republicans.

Pending before Judge Bond is the habeas corpus case in favor of the canvassers who were committed by the Supreme State Court for contempt, and before the Supreme Court of the State, the rule for counting the electoral vote.

The main question before the Louisiana Returning Board seems to be how not to get returns.

LATER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—The Herald special from Columbia says: Three Republican Senators will vote with Democrats, making a dead lock in that body. The excluded Democrats from Edgefield and Laurens have a good chance for admission.

The Democratic House appointed a committee to inform the Senate that the House was organized and ready for business, and also appointed a committee to obtain returns for State officers.

THE INDIAN WAR.

Another Murderous Raid--The Old Erie Board.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—A special dated on the field with Gen. McKenzie, Nov. 25th, says: "Fighting all day. The village contains 200 lodges and five hundred warriors. The camp was at a war dance when McKenzie made the attack. The Indians took to rocks from where it is difficult to dislodge them. We are camping on the battle field, though hostile guns are flashing from behind a hundred bushes. The volunteer Indians behaved well in the charge, but afterwards became indifferent to anything but plunder. We captured 250 ponies and killed about 20 Indians. We lost a Lieutenant, Corporal and a private killed. Quite a number were wounded.

The old Erie board of directors has been re-elected.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

CHAMBERLAIN TO BE INAUGURATED FRIDAY.

Soldiers Still Guard the Capitol.

"THE STATE IS RUINED."

[Special to the News.]

COLUMBIA, Nov. 29, 11 P. M.—There are two Houses still. Chamberlain will be declared Governor on Friday. Soldiers still guard the Capitol. The State is ruined. W. J.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA INFAMY.

The Two Legislatures--The Election Returns Surrendered to the Speaker of the Republican House--Fraud Upon Fraud--The Canvass for State Officers.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 29.—The Republican House was without a quorum in the morning. The Senate is discussing a concurrent resolution, passed by the House yesterday, to go into a canvass for State officers.

The Democratic House is in secret session.

The Secretary of State replied to a committee that he had surrendered the election returns to Mackey, Speaker of the Republican House.

The military still garrison the State House.

The Supreme Court met and adjourned without transacting any business, the lawyers being engaged in making a return to the habeas corpus case of the Board of Canvassers before Judge Bonds, of the United States Circuit Court.

The Sergeant-at-Arms of the Republican House is engaged in looking up absentees without success so far.

LATER.

A missing member was brought in, giving the Republican House fifty-nine, whereupon the Committee on Elections, appointed yesterday, submitted a report seating five Republican members from Barnwell county. The Senate, which seems to be recognized by both Houses, adopted a resolution appointing 12 m. Friday to commence a canvass of the votes for State officers, and adjourned to that time.

THE CUBAN WAR.

A Bloody Fight--Both Sides Claim the Victory--Gen. Campos Wounded.

HAVANA, Nov. 28, via KEY WEST. On Nov. 28, a severe fight took place on the plains of Manacas, between Remedios and Sancta Spiritus.—Spanish accounts say their force, numbering three hundred infantry, was attacked by three hundred infantry and four hundred insurgent cavalry. A portion of the Spanish forces were ambushed and cut to pieces. Both parties claim the victory. The Spanish lost 33 killed and 59 wounded, amongst the latter were 6 officers. The insurgents left 24 dead on the field and carried off their wounded. Private accounts say the Spanish lost 170 killed and wounded. Gen. Martinez Campos was at Remedois during the fight. It is reported that he was dangerously wounded in the leg. This needs confirmation.

Another Collector of Internal Revenue, named Quesada, has absconded to the United States with the funds he embezzled.

PARIS, Nov. 29.—Dufaure, President of the Council and Minister of Justice and Worship, experienced another defeat in the Chamber of Deputies. In the budget for public worship a grant for the Carmelite school which he supported being defeated by 339 to 155. The vote on the grant for clerical scholarship on which, according to the same accounts, M. Dufaure possibly stakes his portfolio, was not reached in yesterday's sitting.

The government on the question of burial of the members of the Legion of Honor have offered to make further concessions, but as their proposals would still retain religious distinction the committee will probably reject them.

Two Electors Won't Accept--They Repudiate Chamberlain's Certificate --Some Honest Men Left--Washington News.

LOCAL MATTERS.

A Groundless Sensation.

On the inside of the NEWS this morning we publish a telegraphic dispatch from Raleigh to the New York Herald, setting forth that Thos. R. Keogh, Chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee, had laid before Gov. Brogden a protest against his proclaiming the election of the Democratic electors in this State, on the ground that the returns from 23 of the counties are irregular, and further stating that William B. Glenn, the elector in the seventh district, is disqualified by reason of the fact that he is a member of the Southern Claims Commission.

Yesterday afternoon a reporter of the NEWS called upon His Excellency the Governor, with the view of securing information as to this matter. The Governor stated that he had not seen the paper containing the telegram; he had not seen the protest alluded to, nor had he heard of it until the reporter mentioned it. His proclamation of the result had already been issued, and had been issued, too, without protest from anyone.

So this sensation falls to the ground, The Governor, after his proclamation, could not alter the result even if he were disposed to do so.

Mayor's Court.

Yesterday the Mayor disposed of these cases:

Seaton Hodge, drunk; 24 hours in the guard house.

Nick Alford, col., disorderly conduct in the market house during market hours; $5 and cost.

Julia Hawkins, col., was arraigned for beating a sister in color and in the Church over the head with a stick. A $5 fine was imposed, but in default of its payment Julia went to jail for five days.

Three colored, draymen were up for reckless driving and were fined $5 each.

A stranger in the city, name withheld by request, was fined $5 for an indecent exposure of his person on the street, but not having the needful he went to jail for ten days.

Alex. Mitchell, col., drunk; $5 and costs.

Judge Fowle's Vote.

We erred yesterday in our figures as to the vote received by Hon. Daniel G. Fowle. As counted out he received in 91 counties 122,448. In addition to these he received 200 votes in Granville county, the returns of which were omitted. Add this to the 122 448, and it is found that Judge Fowle received 122,648 votes, 62 more than ever before polled for any man in North Carolina. The three counties to be heard from will run his vote up very materially. Judge Fowle should feel much complimented by the highly flattering vote given him.

Retributive Justice.

We learn that Kirk, the bloodthirsty dog, whose record for infamy is so well known in North Carolina, is now almost a beggar in the streets of Washington City. He still occupies a subordinate position about some of the departments at the Capitol, and not long since begged a North Carolina Democrat, whom he met in the streets of Washington, for the loan of the pitiful sum of $1. "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord," is a divine promise, which has been wonderfully fulfilled in this case.

Suspension for Thanksgiving Day.

This being Thanksgiving Day, in accordance with a custom as old as journalism itself, we shall suspend tomorrow's issue of our paper. The holiday, which will be our first since the late great campaign, will come most gratefully to all connected with this office. To-morrow we shall resume work, and day after to-morrow the NEWS will appear as usual.

Committed to Jail.

Rufus Gill, colored, was brought to the city yesterday from House's Creek Township, and committed to jail "for a matter consarnin' a hog," as Vance's client said. The hog was the property of Willis Hunter. Justice B. A. Perry offered the offender bail in $200, but he could not give the bond, and so they trotted him along to jail.

Comfort for Uneasy Stomachs.

That incomparable anti-dispeptic cordial, carm native and appetizer, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, yields comfort to the uneasy stomach with a degree of promptitude most gratifying to the victim of indigestion. The eradication of dyspepsia by the Bitters is, of course, accomplished by the disappearance of every one of the multifarious and puzzling symptoms among which may be mentioned as the most prominent, heartburn, flatulence, abdominal oppression after eating, and sinking at other times, palpitations of the heart, waterbrash, vertigo, sick headache and nausea. Hostetter's Bitters tone and regulate the various organs which assist in digestion, secretion and evacuation, fortify the system against miasmatic fevers, and develop in the enfeebled system fresh stores of vitality. In efficacy, as in popularity, they surpass any tonic or regulating medicine of the age.
